

Look for Red Flags

Beware of fraudulent checks in the mail!
They may look real, but note discrepancies.

Chances are, if you get a multi-million dollar check you weren't expecting, it's a scam.

There are spelling and punctuation errors present.

A legitimate State check would not have the US President's name on it.

We would never send a check pertaining to the United Nations

If you are unsure if the check is real or not,
Do Not cash it. Contact us first.
